

Studio Policies - Adults

Term/Commitment:

Adult students do not have a minimum or maximum lesson commitment. Once enrolled, lessons are ongoing, and you may continue as long as you wish. Once basics are mastered, there are many different styles and types of playing that can be explored (i.e., improv, songwriting, modern, classical, etc.).

Registration & Tuition:

A non-refundable annual registration fee is due each year upon enrollment. Tuition and fees are prorated for students registering later in the year.

See Tuition Agreement for current rates and payment schedules. Please note that what you pay is tuition, and is based on enrollment, not attendance. It is not an hourly fee for services rendered because teaching is much more than the time spent during the lesson. Tuition also covers preparation time, teacher training and experience, event costs and preparations, professional organization memberships, professional journals, studio expenses, property taxes, insurance, business licenses, continuing education, and more.

Attendance:

Regular attendance is encouraged to maintain forward progress. Tuition is not refunded for missed lessons. However, if you have an unavoidable absence, the following options are available:

- ♪ Online lesson (Zoom) at your scheduled day/time. This works well if you are unable to leave home (for example – weather conditions or car trouble) but are otherwise well enough to have a lesson.
- ♪ Video lesson. The teacher will prepare a video lesson for you to watch at your convenience.
- ♪ Reschedule for a different day/time. Availability is not guaranteed.

Please use the reminder email or text to reschedule or cancel your lesson, as this opens up your spot for another student that may be looking for an opening. Lessons missed without prior notice are NOT eligible for ANY type of lesson credit or makeup.**

♪ It is your responsibility to reschedule lessons. Lessons do not have to be made up in the same week the lesson is missed. Doubling up on lessons in a week is not harmful. Unused lesson credits expire at the end of the year and do not carry over.

Teacher reserves the right to cancel lessons in case of illness or family/professional obligations. Lessons cancelled by the teacher will always be rescheduled or credited.

Summer Lessons:

Summer lessons are included in the annual tuition. During the summer months, your lesson day and time may vary.

Recitals/Performances: No performances are required for adults. Two annual piano parties (fall and spring) are held at the studio, and any students desiring to play at that time may do so.

General:

The student agrees to pay for any required materials not covered by tuition.

The student agrees to pay for any loss or damage incurred to any instrument, accessory or music loaned by the teacher to the student.

Practicing - There are no practice requirements for adult students. Guidelines are given, but you must decide what is reasonable for your situation, considering such things as the hours you work, any other extra-curricular or family commitments, and your musical goals. However, even if you have had no time at all to practice in any given week, it is still important to attend the lesson. Quantity of practice has no bearing on the amount of material that can be learned during the lesson. It is only your rate of progress that will be affected by lack of practice.

Contact:

If you need to speak with me, the best way to contact me is via email or text, or through Tonara's messaging system. Students are encouraged to send messages during the week if they have questions regarding their repertoire, progress, or other matters.

Media Release:

With permission, photos of students and/or video and audio recordings of student projects and performances may be posted online and used by the instructor for promotional and workshop materials. The studio follows online safety rules in this matter.

Discontinuing Lessons: This is a decision that is best made with plenty of thought, and discussion between the teacher and student so that lessons can end on a positive note. Play Out Loud Music Studio respects the student's right to end lessons at any time, however, there will be no refund for any remaining paid lessons. Play Out Loud Music Studio retains the right to terminate lessons at any time for lack of payment, destruction of property, or threat to physical well-being.

Roster spaces are not held without payment. Once lessons are discontinued, spots are offered to students on the studio waiting list.

Play Out Loud Music Studio is released from any liabilities, accidents or injuries that may incur from the enrolled student with the participation of piano lessons, piano parties or other piano events.
